

Newton Cultural Development announces

Art in Bloom Newton

Artwork interpreted through fresh floral designs

Create your own artistic floral design from local garden-fresh blooms, with artwork by Newton artists as your inspiration.

In this program, participants will learn how to design a creative floral arrangement using locally grown flowers and foraged materials. Gardener and sustainable florist Susan Margolin, owner of Lotus & Lettuce, artisan floral design from seed to vase, will guide participants in interpreting local art through sustainable floral design. All flowers are grown locally in a collaborative effort with Newton Community Farm.

The workshop is held on Friday September 22, 2023 at Newton Cultural Development Offices, 1294 Centre Street, Newton Centre from 6pm – 8:30pm.

Registration details:

- Workshop is limited to 12 participants (register early to ensure a seat).
- Participants provide their own floral vase/vessel and a few stems of their choice (twigs, branches, seed pods etc.).
- More details on registration page.
- Register on-line at <https://newtonma.myrec.com/info/default.aspx>.
- Registration fee of $75 includes locally grown flowers by Newton Community Farm and Lotus & Lettuce.

