

SLF IDENTIFICATION GUIDE

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED TO STOP THE SPREAD OF SLF!

Before transporting any items stored outdoors out of an SLF-infested area, use the checklist on the other side of this guide to check for and remove all stages of spotted lanternfly. If you work with companies in states with known SLF infestations, ask them if they have received training and have checked their own materials and equipment for signs of SLF.

Checklist for Residents In or Near Infested Areas

Spotted lanternfly (Lycorma delicatula, “SLF”) is an invasive insect and a highly destructive agricultural pest. Take steps now to learn the signs of SLF and do your part to help keep this pest from spreading throughout Massachusetts.

Look before you leave! SLF can hitchhike on or in vehicles, and their egg masses may be found on any flat surface. Make sure to inspect all of the items listed below before moving them from an area infested with SLF, and talk to anyone doing work on your property:

IF YOU FIND SPOTTED LANTERNFLY:

- Smash or squish the insects or egg masses, or place them in a container with rubbing alcohol or hand sanitizer
- Is SLF already in your area? (Check the map: BIT.LY/SLFDashboard)
 - ➔ YES: Download our management guide: BIT.LY/SLFMgmt
 - ➔ NO: Get a photo and report it: MASSNRC.ORG/PESTS/SLF
