

Mayor's Update

The MBTA alerted us that as a safety precaution, the Newtonville Commuter Rail station is closed at least through tomorrow, Wednesday, Oct. 23, while an engineering team assesses the condition of the stairs.

Trains are not stopping in Newtonville. All passengers heading to Newtonville must detrain and board at West

Newton for a shuttle bus connection to Newtonville.

The MBTA at this time can not say when the station will reopen.

When we get more information, we'll post it on the homepage at newtonma.gov.

You can check the MBTA Commuter Rail Alerts page here.

Warmly,

Ruthanne
