

Guidance: Resource area boundary determinations

Adopted April 3, 2014

Resource area boundary delineations shall be reviewed only when site conditions are such that the Commission or its agents believe they can adequately review the relevant resource area indicators (e.g., soils, vegetation, topography, and hydrology). Therefore, delineations shall be reviewed preferably between April 1 and December 1 of any year.