Introduction

The Charter Commission takes great pride in unanimously recommending a new city charter to the voters of Newton for consideration at the November 7, 2017 election.

In November 2015, Newton voters approved the formation of a nine-member Charter Commission to review and propose modifications to the city charter, which defines the organization, powers, and functions of the city government. Newton's charter had not undergone a comprehensive review since it was adopted in 1971.

At the outset of the review process, the Commission adopted three objectives for improving Newton's government. A new charter would provide for:

- a more effective and responsive government;
- greater public participation in city government; and
- better community understanding of Newton's governmental structure.

With these objectives in mind, the Commission proposes a new charter. The two most significant changes to the charter are:

- City Council: Replace the current 24-member city council with a 12-member city council. Voters citywide would elect one councilor from each of Newton's eight wards; the remaining four councilors would be elected citywide and could live anywhere in the city.
- Term Limits: Institute term limits of three consecutive terms (12 years) for the office of mayor and eight consecutive terms (16 years) for the office of city councilor. The term limit for the school committee would remain at four consecutive terms (8 years).

Explanation of Major Changes

City Council: Newton residents have twice expressed a desire to reduce the size of Newton's 24-member city council in non-binding referendums. The Commission engaged in a thorough and comprehensive process evaluating alternative city council models. In the United States, the average city council size is six and in Massachusetts, the 20 largest cities have an average city council size of 10 members. Adopting a smaller city council will increase accountability, responsiveness, and effectiveness.

City Council Size and Resident Representation

	Total City Councilors	Residents Per Councilor

Peer Group Average: 20 Largest Massachusetts Cities (excluding Newton and Boston)	10	8,345
Newton – Proposed	12	7,316

Under the proposed charter, voters citywide would elect one councilor from each ward; the additional four councilors could live anywhere in the city and would be elected by voters citywide. This structure would allow all residents to vote for all councilors. Currently, Newton's city council is made up of three representatives from each of the city's eight wards. Two from each ward are elected by voters citywide, and one is elected by the voters of the home ward only.

The proposed charter retains ward-based council seats to reflect Newton's economic and geographic diversity and ensure that every ward has a voice on the city council. One representative per ward is customary for city councils with ward representatives. This structure avoids redundancy and duplication of effort.

In deciding whether these ward-based councilors should be elected citywide or only by the ward, we considered the following:

- Newton's long-standing tradition of having a majority of councilors elected citywide is important to preserve the sense of one city. Currently, two-thirds of our city council and our entire school committee are elected from the ward by voters citywide.
- Voters have more influence over the actions of the council when they can vote for all councilors.
- As a city of 18 square miles and 88,000 residents, issues such as traffic, safety, and economic development affect all residents, so councilors should be acting in the best interests of the whole city.
- City councilors who answer to all voters are the best way to ensure that our villages are uniformly supported and thoughtfully integrated into the whole city. Newton is comprised of 13 villages of unique character that are a source of pride and enhanced sense of community for their residents. They create a beautiful and varied cityscape connected by Newton's common infrastructure. The villages vary dramatically in population and size; they do not align with our voting wards or precincts.
- While Newton once had a racial enclave, today racial and other minorities live throughout the city. Minority candidates running citywide are able to garner support from minority voters across the city.
- Newton's school committee is comprised of eight members elected citywide with a ward residency requirement. Each member represents special issues in his or her own ward, but is responsible for the school system as a whole. This model has worked well for our city.
- Councilors elected by ward only have been elected with fewer than 550 votes but make decisions affecting the whole city. Councilors elected citywide require almost ten times the number of votes to win election.

We concluded that Newton would be best served if ward-based councilors were accountable to all voters.

In addition to the ward-based seats, the proposed charter includes four seats in which councilors can live anywhere in the city and would be elected by voters citywide. Voters can choose their preferred representatives for these four seats without ward residency constraints. Candidates representing viewpoints out of the mainstream who are running for councilor-at-large can be elected with a plurality of votes. These seats also offer residents an opportunity to run without challenging an effective ward-based councilor. All but two Massachusetts cities have some or all councilors elected this way and those councilors are challenged in almost every election.

We believe this proposal best suits Newton and reflects current best practices.

Newton City Council: Current and Proposed

	Number of Councilors	Councilors Elected Citywide (With Ward Residency Requirement)	Councilors Elected by One Ward Only	Councilors Elected Citywide (Without Ward Residency Requirement)	% of Council Elected Citywide	% of Council Each Voter Elects
Current	24	16	8	0	67%	71%
Proposed	12	8	0	4	100%	100%

Term Limits: Elected bodies benefit from a balance between institutional knowledge and fresh perspectives. The Charter Commission examined 60 years of Newton elections data and found a declining trend in the average turnover of city council seats at a given election. Over the last 30 years, turnover (due to an open seat or a defeated incumbent) has fallen from 30% to 15%. The power of incumbency, which may be strongest at the local level, often deters challenges to sitting officeholders. The low level of turnover led a majority of commissioners to agree that term limits would benefit the city council.

The charter concentrates significant powers and duties in the office of mayor. Placing term limits on the city council without placing term limits on the mayor could hurt the council’s ability to check the power of the mayor. The Commission concluded it was important to balance the power of the mayor with the power of the council.

Three consecutive four-year terms (12 years) would allow a mayor ample opportunity to achieve long term goals while periodically providing for new leadership. A term limit of 16 years for city councilors would allow for the buildup of experience while ensuring some turnover and acknowledges the need for a balance of power within the government.

Newton has had eight-year term limits on the School Committee since 1971. Based on interviews and review of School Committee elections data, a majority of commissioners concluded the current model has served our city well.

The Charter Review Process

During the 16-month charter-review process, the Commission made a concerted effort to ensure that the process was thorough and transparent. The Commission held more than 30 regular meetings, conducted seven public hearings and held six panel discussions, providing testimony from current and former elected officials and city employees from Newton and other communities. Newton citizens participated in the process by commenting at the regular meetings and public hearings, emailing the Commission, and engaging in discussions with individual commissioners.

To inform the discussions, the commissioners reviewed charters and research from other cities in Massachusetts and across the country and interviewed city staff. The Commission also benefited from the consulting services of the Edward J. Collins Center for Public Management at the University of Massachusetts Boston.

Following the citywide distribution of the Charter Commission's preliminary report in March 2017 the commission held its final public hearing and continued its deliberations. The Commission made minor modifications to the revised charter prior to submission of this final report in May 2017.

Through the process of research and discussion, the commissioners expressed diverse viewpoints and ideas for more effective local government. Deliberations were spirited and straw votes were rarely unanimous. Ultimately, all commissioners agree the proposal would modernize and improve Newton's government.

Highlights of the Charter Proposal

The Mayor

The strong mayoral form of government has served Newton well so the proposed charter would retain this structure. The mayor may serve for three consecutive four-year terms.

The City Council

A 12-member city council would replace the current 24-member council. All councilors may be eligible to serve for up to eight consecutive two-year terms.

The School Committee

The school committee composition, term lengths, and term limits have been effective and would remain the same under the proposed charter. School committee responsibilities would be updated to reflect substantive changes in state law.

Financial Procedures

In keeping with widely accepted financial practices that ensure transparency, the proposal would require the mayor to provide:

- a five-year forecast of the city's financial condition;
- an annual inventory of city's capital assets;
- an annual report on the city's progress in executing the capital improvement plan.

The city council would be required to provide for an annual independent audit of city finances. This audit would be conducted by a certified public accountant in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Planning

The state-mandated comprehensive plan that provides a planning and development roadmap for the city would be subject to periodic review. Under the new proposal, the plan would be reviewed within two years after the inauguration of a new mayor. The reviews are intended to ensure that the comprehensive plan reflects the current state of the city and provides direction forward. According to state law, the city council determines which legally authorized bodies shall be assigned special permit granting authority. As a result, this subject is not addressed in the proposed charter.

Initiative, Petition, and Referendum

To support and continue Newton's tradition of enabling residents' right to petition their government, the proposed charter would update the process in accordance with modern standards.

Neighborhood Area Councils

The city's commitment to citizen engagement in government through neighborhood area councils is reaffirmed in the proposal. The city council would set by ordinance the boundaries, election process, and functions for all area councils.

Conflict of Interest

A clear and explicit conflict of interest statement would clarify that elected officials and members of boards and commissions could not seek to unduly influence the official acts of any city employee.

Public Comment

Citizens providing feedback to the Commission expressed interest in establishing protocols for public participation at city meetings. The proposed charter would require each city body to create and publish a policy for receiving public comment.

Ten-Year Review of the City Charter

To ensure that the charter is reviewed regularly, a charter review committee established by ordinance would conduct a review every 10 years. The committee's final report and any proposed amendments would be submitted to the city council.

Transition

If Newton voters approve a new charter in November 2017, most of the elements would go into effect immediately. However, changes to the size and composition of the city council would be implemented with the election of November 2019. Other transition details can be found in Article 12.

Conclusion

The members of the Charter Commission are honored to have served the City of Newton throughout this rigorous review process. The election of a Charter Commission is a rare opportunity for a city to modernize and improve its government and we have devoted our best effort to this challenge.

Our charter proposal is based on considerable research, thought, and deliberation. We aimed to create a charter that will serve our city well for many years, and will allow for a more effective and responsive government as well as greater citizen engagement.

Our proposal does not reflect on the way in which any current or former members of the city government have performed their duties. The Commission members believe that Newton is fortunate to have so many dedicated public servants at every level.

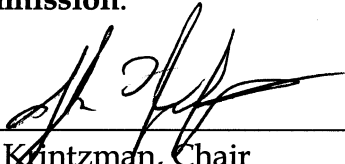

We offer sincere thanks to Newton's elected officials and city employees who participated in the charter review process. In addition to all they do for our city, they shared their time and wisdom with us.

We are especially grateful to the City Clerk, Elections Office, Legal Department, Information Technology Department, and Comptroller's Office. We thank our charter specialists at the Collins Center for their patience, expertise, participation in our meetings, and research assistance. Last but not least, we thank the citizens who attended our meetings and commented thoughtfully in person or by email. The insights of Newton's citizens played a significant role in shaping our proposal.

We encourage residents to read the entire charter proposal. For background information, please visit our website at newtonma.gov/charter where you will find the documentation that informed our decisions, the meeting minutes, and audio recordings.

We urge the citizens of Newton to join us and vote YES to adopt the proposed new charter on November 7.

Respectfully submitted to the voters of Newton, by the Newton Charter Commission:

(d) Legal Assistance to the Council — The city council may obtain legal assistance on any issue being examined by the council relating to its duties under the charter; provided that the council rules establish a process for the selection of such assistance.

Any material produced by the attorneys for the city council, whether in document or electronic form, shall be clearly and prominently labeled as "Advisory to the Newton City Council." The same statement shall appear on any materials printed or distributed in electronic form at council meetings, other public meetings, or in any other public venues. Except as otherwise provided by this charter, every adopted measure shall become effective 21 days after adoption or at any later date specified in the measure. Measures not subject to referendum shall become effective upon adoption. No ordinance shall be amended or repealed except by another ordinance adopted in accordance with the charter or as provided in the initiative and referendum procedures.

(b) Emergency Measures —An emergency measure shall be introduced in the form and manner prescribed for measures generally, except that it shall be plainly designated as an emergency measure and shall contain statements after the enacting clause declaring that an emergency exists and describing its scope and nature in clear and specific terms. The emergency as declared and defined in a preamble to the measure shall be separately voted on and shall require the affirmative vote of 2/3 of the council then in office. An emergency measure may be passed with or without amendments or rejected at the meeting at which it is introduced. After its adoption, an emergency measure shall be published as prescribed for other adopted measures. It shall become effective upon adoption or at such later time as it may specify.

(c) Charter Objection —On the first occasion that the question on adoption of a measure is put to the city council, if a single member objects to the taking of the vote, the vote shall be postponed until the next meeting of the city council whether regular or special. If 2 or more other members shall join the member in such objection, such postponement shall be until the next regular meeting; provided, however, that for an emergency measure, at least 4 members in all must object. This procedure shall not be used more than once for any matter bearing a single docket number notwithstanding any amendments to the original matter. The city council may, by rule, limit the application of the charter objection procedure.

(d) If during the 24 hours immediately following adjournment of the city council, a motion to reconsider a measure passed at that meeting of the council is filed with the clerk of the council by any member of the city council who is entitled to make such a motion, the measure shall not be presented to the mayor but shall be presented to the city council for reconsideration at its next meeting.

SECTION 2-10. Delegation of Powers

Except to the extent otherwise prohibited by law, the city council may delegate to 1 or more city agencies the powers vested in the city council by the laws of the commonwealth to grant and issue licenses and permits, and may regulate the granting and issuing of licenses and permits by any such city agency and may, in its discretion, rescind any such delegation without prejudice to any prior action which has been taken.

SECTION 2-11. Inquiries and Investigations

The city council may require any city officer or member of a city agency to appear before it and give such information as it may require in relation to the office held, its function and performance. The city council shall give at least 5 days written notice of the general scope of the inquiry which is to be made to any person it shall require to appear before it under this section. The city council may make investigations into the affairs of the city and into the conduct of any city agency and for this purpose may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and require the production of evidence.

(b) Referral to City Solicitor — If the election commissioners determine that the number of signatures of voters is sufficient, the petition shall be delivered to the clerk of the council or the secretary of the school committee, who shall, immediately following receipt of such certification, deliver a copy of the petition to the city solicitor. The city solicitor shall, within 15 days following receipt of a copy of the petition, advise the city council or the school committee, in writing, whether the measure may lawfully be proposed by the initiative process and whether, in its present form it may be lawfully adopted by the city council or the school committee. If the opinion of the city solicitor is that the measure is not in proper form, the reply shall state the reasons for such opinion. A copy of the opinion of the city solicitor shall also be mailed to those identified on the affidavit as the petitioners committee.

(c) Additional Signatures —If the city solicitor determines that the petition is in a proper form, the city clerk shall provide blank petition forms within 10 days for the use of subsequent signers and shall print at the top of each blank form a fair, concise summary of the proposed measure, as determined by the city solicitor, together with the names and addresses of the members of the petitioners committee. The city clerk shall notify the petitioners committee that the blank petition forms are issued. Within 180 days following the date of the notice, the petition shall be returned and filed with the city clerk signed by at least 10 per cent of the total number of registered voters as of the date of the most recent regular city election.

The street and number of the residence of each signer shall appear with each signature on the petition.

Within 10 days following the filing of the petition, the election commissioners shall determine the number of voters that signed the petition and the percentage represented by that number of the total number of voters as of the date of the most recent regular city election. The election commissioners shall attach to the petition a certificate showing the results of its examination and shall return the petition to the clerk of the council or the secretary of the school committee, depending on how the petition is addressed. If the city council or the school committee fails to act with respect to any initiative measure which is presented to it within 30 days following the date it is returned to either the council or school committee by the election commissioners the measure shall be deemed to have been rejected on such thirtieth day. If an initiative measure is rejected, the clerk of the council or the secretary of the school committee shall promptly give notice of that fact to the members of the petitioners committee by certified mail. Initiative measures shall not be subject to the charter objection in section 2-9(c).

(f) Scheduling of Election —If the number of signatures to such supplemental petition is found to be sufficient by the election commissioners for petitions submitted to the school committee, the city clerk shall notify both the secretary of the school committee and the city council. For petitions submitted to the council, the clerk shall notify the city council. For either a petition addressed to the school committee or the city council, the city council shall call a special election to be held on a date fixed by it not less than 45 nor more than 90 days following the date of the certificate of the city clerk that a sufficient number of voters have signed the supplemental initiative petition and shall submit the proposed measure, without alteration, to the voters for determination; provided, however, if any other city election is to be held within 180 days following the date of said certificate, the city council may omit the calling of such special election and cause said question to appear on the municipal election ballot at such approaching election for determination by the voters.

(g) Publication —The city clerk shall provide a Notice to Voters by mail to every household in the city with at least 1 registered voter. The notice shall contain a fair, concise summary of the initiative measure as prepared by the city solicitor and the full text of the measure which is to be submitted to the voters. Such notice shall be sent not fewer than 14 days preceding the date of the election at which such question is to be voted upon. Additional copies of the full text shall be available for distribution to the public in the office of the city clerk, at the public library, and by electronic means as determined by the city clerk.
